New for your big-block Chevy, Zoops' serpentine belt system includes CNC-machined billet-aluminum Correct-Align alternator, air conditioner, and power-steering brackets, and the Forgelite pulleys are some of the strongest aluminum units available. The serpentine belt is held in tension by adjustable Heim-end bars, an idler pulley, and an OEM spring-loaded tensioner. All threaded holes use stainless steel Helicoils to reduce the chance of thread stripping. Illustrated instructions allow easy bolt-on installation.
